Project Title: Jeremy Jones

I think this site will work best as a singular page. While there is a decent amount to say on Jeremy Jones, there is not a ton of content that needs to be included. Rather, this site is meant to convey a bit more about his style and show some of the works he has been in. For that reason, I think a singular page with one cohesive, flowing style would work well to incorporate these different aspects. I hope to include many photos to help create and show his style.

Title: Simple name on a background photo. I might include a quote as well and some simple nav links to other parts of the site.

About/ early life: set the stage for who Jeremy Jones is and how he got his start in snowboarding.

Movies: List the movies Jeremy Jones has starred in.

Brand: Describe Jones snowboards.

Activism: Describe the Protect Our Winters organization that Jones founded. List accomplishments of the organization.

Sponsors: List current sponsors.

Sources: Potentially a separate page listing references.
